The Task Force was a collaborative effort between the North Carolina Institute of Medicine (NC IOM), the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services (NC DHHS), and the North Carolina Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) Program. The work of the Task Force was funded by NC DHHS, Division of Public Health, Chronic Disease and Injury Section, Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention Branch through a Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) grant, Cooperative Agreement Number U50/CCU421315-05, and the Division of Medical Assistance. The contents of this report are solely the responsibility of the authors and do not necessarily represent the official views of the CDC.

The NC IOM extends special recognition to the Task Force Co-Chairs, Thomas J. Bacon, DrPH, Executive Associate Dean and Director, AHEC, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Medicine; and L. Allen Dobson, MD, FAAFP, Assistant Secretary for Health Policy and Medical Assistance, NC DHHS, who helped direct the work of the Task Force. The Task Force's work and clarity of vision would not have been possible without their leadership. Special thanks also is extended to Darren DeWalt, MD, MPH, Assistant Professor of Medicine, Division of General Internal Medicine, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, whose knowledge and expertise proved invaluable to the success of the Task Force.

In addition, the NC IOM wants to thank the 48 other members of the Task Force and Steering Committee (listed below) who gave freely of their time and expertise for more than six months to help improve the health literacy of North Carolinians.

Pam Silberman, JD, DrPH, President and CEO, and Mark Holmes, PhD, Vice President, of the NC IOM helped guide the work of the Task Force. They, along with E. Kiernan McGorty, JD, PhD, and Kristen L. Dubay, MPP, helped write most of the Task Force report. Kimberly M. Alexander-Bratcher, MPH, Project Director at the NC IOM, helped assist with the logistical arrangements of the meetings. Daniel Shive and Sarah Haseltine, interns at the NC IOM, helped with formatting and editing. Key staff support was provided by Adrienne Parker, Director of Administrative Operations, and Thalia Fuller, Administrative Assistant, with the NC IOM.

The Task Force wants to recognize the following people for making presentations to the Task Force and providing background information. Specifically, we would like to thank: Mary Ann Abrams, MD, MPH, Clinical Performance Improvement, Iowa Health System; Karen M. Brown, Adult Basic Education/English as a Second Language Coordinator, North Carolina Community College System; Heather Burkhardt, MSW, Planning and Evaluation Coordinator, North Carolina Division of Aging and Adult Services; Jay Campbell, JD, Executive Director, North Carolina Board of Pharmacy; Toni Cordell, Patient Advocate; Steve Davis, Greene County Health Care; Mary DeCoster, MPH, Durham County Health Department; Darren DeWalt, MD, MPH, Assistant Professor of Medicine, Division of General Internal Medicine, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Sandy Diehl, MPH, Department of Health Behavior and Health Education, University of North
